

Ido Andeweg (2005) started his piano journey at age five. Prior to starting his studies at the Conservatory of Amsterdam with Frank Peters, Ido was accepted into the Young Talent Class of the Sweelinck Academy of Amsterdam where he was taught by Frank van der Laar and Borys Fedorov. During his pre-studies, Ido has participated and won prizes in various competitions, these include the Prinses Christina Concours, the Florence Concours, and the Steinway Concours. In January of 2025, he performed the Piano Concert by Robert Schumann with the Amersfoorts youth orchestra. Ido has also performed chamber music in various ensembles, such as quatre-mains and a piano quartet. He is also known for accompanying his fellow students during performances.
